Elections Council Chair

Report For February 8, 2017

Associated Students of the University of California

Meetings Attended

Senate meeting 2/8, Elections Council meeting 2/3, one-on-one with Jon Rey

Current Projects

We will be approving the Voluntary Wellness Pact as a Council on Friday! We received Senate's feedback today and will build upon it to craft a Pact that works for everyone. While we understand its lack of enforceability raises questions for some, we felt that the pact is best left voluntary in nature as self-care is and should be a personal commitment.

I am working to secure locations and equipment for Tabulations Ceremony, which will be a fun event - we are hoping to have the Cal Band perform.

I am also meeting with the CCO next week to discuss ways through which we can increase visibility of the ASUC elections through means of stickers, graphics, a more accessible info guide, and more incentives to get involved.

Finally, I'm gearing up for the first ever Elections Council Orientation, which will be a lot of fun and also informative! I'm excited to meet the interns and make everyone feel like we're a team.
